LLOVE IT! 19:37:11 Acting AP - we have been running LLLL in F&1 for one year. Beginning to use DIBELS diagnostics in 4 - 6 and hopefully implementing some instruction to tackle the gaps.  19:37:23 Question for Greg - We are expected to use Fountas and Pinnell benchmarking at our school (pushed by regional). I have negotiated and we now don't assess Foundation students. I would like to know what you do, if you are expected to use F&P? Do you start benchmarking in Grade One/Two/when they reach level 10 etc?  19:37:59 Iwas late to join - do we know if the presentation slides will be available?  19:38:10 Yes, Belinda:) 19:42:16 What texts do you use for Paired Fluency Passages? 19:44:37 Have you used Florida Centre reading research for resources. 20:00:26	I'm curious to know what your school directorate recommends in terms of literacy practice expectations?
20:00:53	I am very interested in finding a NSW school that is on a similar path.
20:00:54	With the kids who were in the blue range (DIBELS) in the ORF, have you found that they have also benefited from doing fluency pairs?
20:01:00	Would like to hear more about fluency pairs.
20:02:16	can you clone yourself Greg !!?
20:02:32	Can we all just visit Greg?
20:02:35	For the 3-6s is this daily or a certain number of times per week? Also, has an improvement in reading comprehension also been shown?
20:02:37	Jess- Reading Science in Schools recently were collating a list of schools implementing SoR- only saw two in Sydney, but I think it's still being added to?
20:02:49	Hope you can start to influence principals as that is where the change has to start.
20:03:39	@Milena, @Natalie Campbell - do you know when the list is aiming to to be finished?
20:03:59	Excellent!
20:04:23	I hadn't heard about the list - I'm in Sydney implementing (slowly) SoR practices
20:04:32	If fluency pairs are on the same text what a outliers?
20:05:23	RSiS will get onto making a doc that records SoR schools in Australia and NZ.
20:06:00	Awesome, Nat! We have a very small vic centric list on the TFE google drive
20:06:19	How do you change the recommendations of the school area directorate when they are very conservative? There are no SoR schools in our area so schools are very reluctant to change.
20:06:36	Not suream looking out for it- there is another session Sydney based through the NSW branch of TFE coming up next week- I believe a state school in western Sydney is presenting. As a principal myself, I do think it really can depend on your system's response and approach.
20:06:40	Is the DIBELS tracker free to use?
20:07:28	just wondering why letter naming is a critical skill at year 1?
20:07:38	Did anyone get a copy of the year 1 tutoring ideas?

20:08:02	Alicia- yes- this is currently my experience- so entrenched in balanced/ whole language!
20:09:13	(a) NBUCKLEY - there is a correlation between RAN (rapid automatized naming) and reading success. My understanding is that it can be letter names, colours, animals anything - I think DIBELS just picked letter names (open to correction on this).
20:09:46	I'm hopeful that I can get to the 8mins for Heggerty each day :) It's taking more like 15 mins!
20:10:13	True i want to see link to spellingwriting
20:11:16	Unsure where to find a recording of this
20:11:37	How does this reading progress transfer to authentic texts? Given that once they are proficient readers, the aim should be that students are self selecting texts for enjoyment or able to be critical readers of literacy that they are exposed to in everyday life.
	Are there any assessments that are completed on authentic texts rather than testing skills that have just been explicitly taught?
20:11:40	It will be on TFE later on
20:12:02	We purchased decodables from different systems and now have confused our teachers. We are finding it hard to find suitable decodables for Jolly Phonics. If anyone has tips for decodable reading schemes to match Jolly, please let me know!
20:12:30	Not sure if I am a member of TFE. What does it stand for?
20:12:52	what about qld wanting pm levels?
20:13:01	Think Forward Educators
20:13:19	Alayne - have you tried the JP decodables?
20:13:30	If you have registered for tonight, you will start receiving the TFE comms
20:13:49	SPELD website has free decodables aligned to Jolly Phonics
20:13:50	Speld decodables follow Jolly Phonics
20:13:51	What do ou say to teachers who believe that PMs should be done with Decodables so children are exposed to words like 'here'?
20:13:59	Yes - but we need more at the basic level - vc and cvc.
20:14:31	How are you testing for transfer when reading other texts and and to spelling?
20:14:43	Decodable Readers Australia are very good too and Australian.
20:14:44	Pre-service teachers do not receive much content knowledge. I'm currently do a masters of Teaching and all I'm learning is theory and nothing practical. I'm doing my own research.

20:14:57	On ya, Renae!
20:15:01	Kirby I give kids who are on advanced code the choice of non-decodable books as well to complement what they are reading. Once they finish decodable levels they go on to the other texts full time as they have the alphabetic code on board.
20:15:21	Yes, good for you Renae!
20:15:36	that data is amazing
20:15:36	Decodable Readers Aust- I think they have free downloadable at the moment?
20:15:58	What do you do with the identified G & T students?
20:17:23	Is that correct words per minute?
20:17:29	Karen, students who are not yet at that code - do they have the chance to read authentic texts for enjoyment? Using the 3 ways to read a text and purely for exposure to text. Or they don't have any choice texts available to them until they're on advanced code?
20:17:35	Is the fluency data set a part of the dibels tracker?
20:17:36	Yes is it words correct per minute
20:18:26	Love that it is data driven and using evidence based research programs rather than recommended or best practise!
20:19:18	Kirby, yes. They can choose other books during a morning free reading time and our library session. exposure to other texts is also important.
20:19:25	@Kirby - at my school students who are yet to master advanced code still choose authentic texts (from the library) etc but parents are encouraged to read to them (as without advanced code they can't access them themselves)
20:19:25	dibels is American which passages did you use for preps 1 and 3
20:20:35	Which passages are you using for paired fluency activities?
20:20:38	We should be following what speech pathologists say, use and how they teach!
20:20:39	Thx to all the Speechies, they have done so much to increase tech knowledge in schools.
20:21:02	Kirby, decodables are only 1 type of book used-think of them like training wheels. As the teacher we still read plenty of rich texts to the students. At our school in addition to phonics teaching we have a separate comprehension session with a read aloud and oral comprehension (yr 1). Students also have access to a rich library of texts within the class for enjoyment.
20:21:15	A good SLP is worth their weight in gold in schools
20:21:57	Could you display your contact details again?
20:21:57	Wonderful to here you advocating for the role of Speech Pathologists with the educational team Jane Delaney: Speech Pathology Australia.

20:22:10	Thanks Greg for sharing your story and knowledge.
20:22:17	What passages or texts do they use for paired reading?
20:22:17	Wonderful to hear you advocating for the role of Speech Pathologists with the educational team Jane Delaney : Speech Pathology Australia.
20:22:41	Teachers and schools need to hear and see these stories. Very practical info!!
20:22:49	Thank you Greg for sharing your journey and for such a practical and accessible presentation.
20:23:08	I would love to share this recording with my team!
20:23:08	Thank you Greg for your presentation and willingness to share so candidly.  Congratulations on the work you are doing, it sounds very exciting
20:23:09	That was fantastic Greg. I'm so excited to look more into the programs/approaches mentioned and screening tests and begin to implement them in my classroom, as well as hopefully entice my team to join too.
20:23:19	Data, data, data!
20:23:38	How do you start the conversation from a parents point of view? Should I be asking for my sons data?
20:23:47	Thank you Greg for being so generous with your time and sharing all your knowledgeand you are unwell! Really appreciate it.
20:23:52	Yes a huge thank you Greg for your time and willingness to share.
20:23:59	Terrific presentation, thanks Greg. The Q I sent in was: Can you estimate what proportion of primary principals have at least some knowledge/understanding of SoR and how do we reach the ones that don't?
20:24:09	Thank you so much Greg for sharing your journey. Really inspirational and great reassurance of what is possible with passion and persistence
20:24:15	Thank you Greg! Absolutely awesome!
20:24:40	Great presentation Greg thankyou! Many takeaways :)
20:24:43	Thanks Greg for your generosity and ongoing sharing of recourses and presentations.
20:24:47	Thank you Greg. Much appreciated!
20:24:51	Agree about using data - this was a big turning point for our teachers. I found it was also important to talk about the language associated with SoR as well as provide opportunities for asking questions to be discussed and answered over time.
20:24:53	3 terms to be at this point is awesome!
20:24:55	Thanks Greg - you have achieved so much in a very short time in your school - all data informed which so clearly shows the gaps and the importance of the direct teaching. Fabulous stuff! Congrats! Thanks for sharing tonight, and via your website & blog.

20:25:00	Could you share some of the professional readings you have used with your staff? Please?
20:25:09	Which assessment did you use to check the Year 5/6 to assist with the starting point?
20:25:26	Really generous sharing Greg, thanks so much. I didn't see my question from my registration come up on the slide, so just wondering if I could re-ask here? what tips do you have for scaling this up to larger schools where intervention staff/tutors are much more thinly spread?
20:25:51	Hey I'm in my 34th year of teaching and I'm totally into all of this lol!
20:25:52	I find that the negative teachers against SOR, once they come on board, you can't stop them!
20:26:08	Thank you for sharing your journey so far Greg. It is very inspiring. Thank you for sharing your data and showing the evidence that this way of teaching actually works for all children. A great presentation.
20:26:17	Thanks Greg. Great to hear your schools journey.
20:26:18	Fantastic presentation and information. Hope this leads to change when more principals are hearing your success and start changing content and practice.
20:26:21	Thank you Greg. The role of the speech pathologist is invaluable and their expertise often under-utilised. I'm so glad you acknowledged their contribution. Thank you for sharing. BTW I'm not a speech pathologist!
20:26:32	Thanks so much for this webinar Greg, I got a lot out of it! Get some rest.
20:26:37	So wonderful and real - thank you! Such respectful leadership.
20:27:07	Agree Sheryl! I miss when our school could afford a speechie, I learned so much too.
20:27:18	Thank you Greg. You are an inspiration to all teachers and principals that follow the SoR. Keep up the great work, look forward to reading your blogs
20:27:31	What kind of things would you look for as a principal to see that your kids are going to have a continuation of their journey in secondary years?
20:27:32	Thank you greg
20:27:45	Thank you! Can't wait for our visit!
20:27:46	Thanks Greg. Tonight's session and your blog are both great.
20:28:15	In our school it was the long term, 30 + year teachers, who were pushing for change and the newer teachers who couldn't see the need for change.
20:28:17	Thanks Greg
20:28:59	Brilliant Greg. Thanks so much.
20:29:27	Great question Tom - I work in a K-12 school (leader in the junior school) - I have a goal - it's to ensure that the SoR journey we are on doesn't stop when the kids leave us!

20:31:05	Thanks very much Greg, so informative.
20:31:23	I am in a secondary school so we make sure we have baseline assessments for students coming in to Year 7 and rigorous tracking of students. We support explicit instruction across subjects, especially with vocabulary and Tier 2 and 3 interventions which involve withdrawal. It helps having a speech pathologist/teacher on staff.
20:31:33	completely agree Greg. The speech pathologist is the key!
20:31:40	I want to visit, Charlotte!
20:32:13	Can I come to! Sounds amazing
20:32:20	*too
20:32:31	Thankyou so much for generously sharing your journey so far.
20:32:35	We have a speech pathologist on-site most of the week- an absolute asset and she works so closely with staff and leadership. A real game changer.
20:32:39	Thank you for your vote of confidence for Speech Pathologists in Victoria!
20:32:46	Great presentation of your journey so far Greg-you've come a long way in such a short time due to your passion & inspirational leadership to adopt best practice that's backed by science. Are you open to staff from other schools coming to visit to see lessons in action?
20:32:51	Thank you this was a fantastic session. Well worth attending.
20:33:22	Thank you for a wonderful session. So informative and encouraging
20:33:35	Docklands PS is one to visit!
20:33:39	I'm currently going through my ITE at uni in my final year, and luckily am specialising in language. I am so glad I chose language as otherwise what I am learning now (how to teach students to read), I would have no idea about! It's crazy!
20:33:42	A great opportunity. Thank you Greg.
20:33:43	Thanks Greg. Make sure you take the time to look after yourself tomorrow. :)
20:33:48	hello Carina!
20:33:49	Bentleigh West is great!
20:33:49	What are your thoughts on home readers??
20:33:53	Thank you Greg. Well worth watching.
20:33:57	I do think this needs to also be addressed at pre service level in the coming years! The "reading wars" are still alive and kicking on so this needs to continue to be challenged.
20:34:02	Kerrimuir Primary
20:34:09	yes docklands has just opened this year
20:34:13	A key aspect is to develop good relationships with staff first.

20:34:15	Churchill P.S is great too.
20:34:17	Northern NSWwho is on board?
20:34:31	I have just emailed you Greg to ask if I can come to your school, to observe The big 6. I am coming from NZ.
20:34:43	Wattle glen
20:34:53	Brandon Park PSGreg we are going to be in touch!
20:35:09	Absolutely!
20:35:11	yessssss i hear you greg fand p rubbishhhhhh
20:35:32	How do we get the Department of Ed to change and not keep recommending these programs?
20:35:43	Great answer Greg re F&P
20:35:44	Hallelujah! Thanks for saying that about F & P's!! Been having this issue too.
20:35:46	tell this to the qld dept!
20:35:51	It really needs to have leadership on board to be able to rid the school of PMs and F&P (not all PMs but certainly the benchmarking kits)
20:35:54	Greg can I just take that clip and put it on my phone, would be a VERY handy tool to have at my school (where we use F&P in a secondary environment)
20:36:02	YESSS!!! Good answer, Greg!
20:36:05	I would love to visit Clayton southwe've made some great inroads but would love to share the journey
20:36:06	thats sooooo right
20:36:07	yes! let's get Qld Ed on board!
20:36:15	I need a job at your school
20:36:24	Old Orchard PS
20:36:32	any one from Ed qld high up here?
20:36:33	How do you align your SOR approach to your home reading program at CPPS?
20:36:40	When systems' directorates direct schools to use F&P, benchmarks and RR for data gathering- this is the challenge.
20:36:48	Thanks Greg - have found this very affirming :)
20:36:50	Wonderful, Greg. Thank you.
20:36:51	Absolutely agree about F&P. But difficult to shift schools whose leadership teachers they must it.
20:37:19	We want to stop F&P but how quickly do you think it's possible to implement so many new assessment practices at once? did you do it all in one go?
20:37:28	Thank you for sharing your journey, its so inspiring.

20:37:30	Awesome presentation - thank you so much for explaining all the resources so well Greg :) Cheers.
20:37:48	thank you. great information.
20:37:55	Shelved F&P - confused teachers to no end
20:37:56	Thoughts on benchmarking?
20:38:25	You can use rewording to adapt texts as well
20:38:28	We replaced F & P with YARC
20:38:33	Rewordify
20:38:39	I did it one go. Started using DIBELS K-6 and got rid of all benchmarking.  Takes a bit of mental adjustment for lots of staff but all have taken it on board now.
20:38:45	Thank you. This has been a very informative session. Your passion is evident!
20:38:59	Great presentation and information - thank you. We need more (if not all) Principals to 'get-it' as you have.
20:39:10	Thank you Greg! This has been awesome
20:39:24	Wales St Thornbury
20:39:30	Bloody amazing, Greg!!

20:40:15	thank you Greg! Lucky kids and teachers at your school

20:40:16	The groundswell starts at the grass roots- that's exactly what you and many others are already doing more so in VIC it appears too.
20:40:27	Thank you Greg - looking forward to hearing more about your school's journey throughout the year
20:40:40	Sorry I was late thank you can't wait to watch it all.
